WILSON OPPOSES PROHIBITION, IRISH PLANKS

CARTER GLASS, AT FRISCO, GIVES AN EARLY OUTLINE OF PARTY PLATFORM

Denies, However, that He Brings Message From President to Convention.

STATE DELEGATIONS ARRIVE IN NUMBERS

By Means of Electric Amplifier Executive Could Address
the Gathering.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—President Wilson is not in favor of the democratic national convention taking any cognizance of prohibition or the Irish question in the democratic platform, it was learned today.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia is conferring with party leaders giving them the President's views on the party platform.

"I am not an ambassador to the convention from the president and I have no draft of any planks that the president has prepared. I believe I have a clear-cut idea of what the president wants, however. I have the Virginia platform with me. The president has endorsed that platform.
The Virginia platform makes no mention of prohibition. The Virginia platform made no mention of the Irish question. Virginia has enough trouble without going to Ireland for war."

While Senator Glass refused to make any flat statement as to whether the President had voiced his opposition to prohibition or Irish planks he intimated strongly that such was the case, and that he was prepared to inform democratic leaders to that effect.

Senator Glass is prepared to fight for the administration's viewpoint on the platform, and anticipates that there will be a struggle between the administration supporters and a group lead by Wm Jennings Bryan on the league of nations plank. Senator Glass is slated by the administration forces to be elected chairman of the resolutions committee, which will draft the platform.

DELEGATES ARRIVE

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The real actors in democracy's quadrennial drama began to pour into San Francisco today for the convention which opens on Monday. Nearly a dozen state delegations were among the arrivals today, and they gave San Francisco the first convention touch it has yet experienced.

Among the state delegations arriving today were Illinois, New York, Michigan, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

The Wilson following, according to all indications, is prepared to stand or fall on the Virginia platform.

Indications were increasing that President Wilson will be in position at all times to counsel the convention.
Meanwhile the direct line-up of the candidate remains unchanged.

It became known today that though the operation of an electric amplifier which throws the sound, magnified thousands of times, President Wilson could, if he so desired, address the convention from Washington.

AFRAID OF BRYAN

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Fear that Wm. J. Bryan will not only have the balance of power when the democratic convention gets down to business, but will make thorough use of his veto, has laid its heavy hand on many of the party here. One of the alternatives suggested is to hold the possibility of a wet candidate over Bryan's head until he throws his support in the desired direction.

DELAWARE ARRIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The Delaware delegation to the democratic convention was the first complete delegation on the grounds.

MERIDITH ACTIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—
Campaign headquarters for Edwin T.
Meredith, secretary of agriculture, were formally opened today.

ROBERTS MAY CALL AN EXTRA SESSION

Tennessee Governor Urged by Wilson to Aid in the Fight for Suffrage.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The legislature of Tennessee may ratify the federal suffrage amendment to the constitution, notwithstanding provisions of the state constitution which prohibit such action by this legislature, according to an opinion by Acting Attorney General Frierson, it was announced today.

GOOD POLITICAL MOVE

(International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—President Wilson has given his party a lying start toward victory in 1920 by his action in urging upon Governor Roberts of Tennessee to call a special session of the legislature to "ratify suffrage. Mrs. Abby Scott-Baker of the national woman's party declared today. She stated that if the President succeeds in bringing about a special session in Tennessee, suffrage will be ratified and out of gratitude
"I believe that the women of the nation will flock to the democratic party's support."

WILL CALL IT

(International News Service)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 24.— Governor A. H. Roberts announced here that he would call a special session of the Tennessee Legislature for action on the Federal suffrage amendment in ample time for the women to

RAINBOW VETS ON TO REUNION

ARE COMING FROM EVERY STATE IN UNION TO BIRMING- HAM MEETING

BIRMINGHAM, June 24.—(special) —Rainbow veterans are planning to descend on Birmingham in force from all parts of the nation, according to information reaching Secretary H. L.
Carter of the Alabama chapter, in every mail. Oregon is sending a delegation of 15; Georgia will send several special trains loaded to the roof with veterans. Texas is planning a special train from Dallas and one from Houston.

In addition to the special trains for Texas veterans there will be another special from the Lone Star state for Gold Star mothers, according to a letter from Mrs. W. E. Talbot, state president of the R. D. V. A., of Texas.
These mothers Mrs. Talbot said, desire to represent their sons at the first annual convention and reunion for the Rainbow veterans.

Mothers whose sons' bodies rest under the grave-covered fields of France, Belgium and Germany are coming from Texas to meet the men who fought by their sons. More than 50 will come from Dallas and vicinity, according to information reaching here.

Local committees are endeavoring to arrange to house the Gold Star mothers as near as possible at the convention July 12, 13 and 14.

Birmingham hotels have turned their facilities over to the Chamber of Commerce committees. All reservations for the convention dates must be made through the committees, and only veterans will be entertained at the hotels during those days.

The highest priced hotel rooms in Birmingham during the convention will be $2. This will include private bath. Other rooms without bath may be secured for $1.50. Five thousand Birmingham homes will be thrown open to the soldier delegates, who will be entertained in homes without cost.

Citizens of Birmingham have devoted $40,000 to an entertainment fund which will be used for the convention.
Some of the most famous attractions in America will be here for the Rainbow men, and every effort will be made to make the reunion a complete success in every way.

QUIET AT LONDONDERRY

(International News Service.)

BELFAST, June 24.—Comparative quiet has been restored at Londonderry, according to a telephone message from that city this morning.
Only occasional firing was heard in the streets. It has been impossible to estimate the number of casualties, but the dead are believed to number a score if not more. Heavy reinforcements of British troops have reached the scene and the city is under military guard.

"The situation is still desperate", said a message to Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, from the Londonderry magistrate.
Many buildings have been shattered by bombs and rifle fire. The streets are littered with debris and blocked with trenches and barricades.

Former Service Men Not Exempt From Street Tax

Former service men who are residents of Albany are liable for street
tax. This is the ruling of City Clerk Henry Hartung, in response to inquiries from veterans of the world war.

"While the council exempted ex-service men from the payment of street tax last year, the exemption was for the year only and no such exemption has been allowed for this year," Mr. Hartung stated.

All males between the ages of 18 and 25 are required to pay this tax.
Notices have been served and some collections already made.

WATER RATE RAISE PASSED TO PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD BY ALBANY COUNCIL

Request of President Weakley for Higher Charge is Denied.

NO SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCIL HELD

Double Meter and Flat System Declared to be Unfair.

The announced intention of the Albany Water Company to advance its water rates in Albany and Decatur, effective July 1, met with a setback when the water committee of the Albany City council, following a conference with John B. Weakley, president of the water company, yesterday afternoon, refused to grant the request for higher prices and referred the petitioner to the Alabama Public Service commission. As a result of the action of the committee, the special meeting of the city council called for last night was dispensed with.

The water committee, after hearing the statement of Mr. Weakley, went fully into the long controversy between the municipality and the water company in regard to certain clauses of the franchise which it is stated that the Water Company has not lived up to. The committee also opposed certain features of the proposed rate advance, and insisted upon a universal meter system, if a meter system is to be adopted. The present practice of charging for the surplusage where a meter is installed, with no proportionate discount from the flat rate where the full amount is not used, was declared by members of the committee to be unfair. It was also pointed out that the new rate would place the burden upon the small consumer, as the small property owner, with one faucet and a toilet, would be required to pay nearly as much as the owner of a handsome home, equipped with many faucets and a complete water system.

President Weakley told the committee that if the meter system were installed at all, the installation could not be completed within two years.
Finding that its views were out of line with those of Mr. Weakley, the committee told him that it would take no action, and advised him to carry his complaint to the public service commission, in the event that an advance in rates is insisted on.

ous trips from their home on Trinity

ing, in order to take part in the rehearsals.

McADOO AGAIN STANDS OUT AS THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

Carter Glass Said to Believe That Former Secretary Can be Drafted.

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Wm.
G. McAdoo again stood out today as one of the leading candidates for the democratic nomination when it was learned that Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, personal representative of the president, will support him.

Senator Glass, while refusing to make a formal statement that he favors McAdoo, admitted that he believed McAdoo the most likely candidate and strongly intimated that he has information that McAdoo, although not desirous of the nomination, will not refuse to serve if drafted. Samuel A. King announced for the Utah delegation that its vote will be cast solid for McAdoo.

JEWISH RELIEF DRIVE TO OPEN HERE JUNE 27TH

The Jewish War Relief campaign will open in the Twin Cities on June 27 and will close on July 3, according to announcement today. With S.
E. Ory as Albany chairman and J. S.
Patterson as Decatur chairman.
The respective quotas of Albany and Decatur have not yet been made public.

Mr. Ory, in announcing the drive today, gave out the following statement:

"Herbert Hoover, the feeder of millions, sends word that he estimates the number of 'under-nourished' children in central and eastern Europe at between 4,000,000 and 5,000, 000. Of these fully a million are Jewish children. Jewish relief organizations are now providing food for 400, 000 ill and starving little ones, but the help of non-Jews also is needed to save the others.

"Major H. I. Davis, a member of the American Red Cross Commission to Poland, in a letter to those in charge of this campaign in Alabama, says, in describing some of the scenes he witnessed:

"What I saw is beyond description.
It oversteps all possible limits of imagination or dreams and they are often far fetched. Whole districts are bare, no cultivated fields, homes burned and destroyed, whole cities demolished, no horses, cattle and the people, God God! There were moments when I wished I was never born to see what I did see.

"Thousands and thousands of children, old men and women without clothing, warmth or food, racked by typhus (in some places half of the population is sick) and other diseases.
Wanderers by the thousands trying to return to their homes from which they were driven out by Russians or Germans. Starving and dying women and children deliriously crying for bread. Huddled together in synagogues, men and women, all too weak to stand up or move about pitifully stretching their hands towards you.
And those faces, emaciated, thin, burning eyes, listless, unable to appreciate anything you may say to them only begging for a piece of bread."

PETITIONS ASKING FOR BOND ELECTION PRESENTED BOARD REVENUE IN JULY

Drive to Get County Out of Mud Strikes Popular
Chord.

FARMERS ESPECIALLY STRONG FOR ROADS

Money Would be Apportioned Justly to All Sections, Completing System.

The drive to get "Morgan county out of the mud" has attained such impetus that it was officially announced today that the petitions asking for a good roads bond election would be presented to the county board of revenue at its July term. If the petition is granted, and it is believed that the big number of names attached to the document will be convincing, it is expected that the election will be held during the present summer.

Interest in the proposition to build a chain of good roads connecting every section of the county is keen.
Representatives of the special committee of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, which is backing the movement, report that the petitions are being freely signed everywhere presented. In the country districts, especially, where the need of modern highways is so keenly felt, the voters are eager to attach their "John Han-cocks."

The petition, which was drawn by the Chamber of Commerce, sets out specifically what thoroughfares are to be constructed, so that the money derived from the sale of bonds will be apportioned fairly throughout the county. It is also set out that $50, 000 or more of the money shall be used for the up-keep of the highway system. The specified roads will lead into every precinct not included in the present highway system, with allowance being made for the roads that are to be built by the state under the provisions of the $25,000,000 bond issue.

LABOR UNION ENDORSES

At the last meeting of the Central Labor Union the petition was presented to this body, at which time they endorsed the petition and in addition to this, they endorsed the bridge project. It is realized that these roads will mean a very great asset to the county, but will be a much greater asset coupled up with the construction of the bridge over the Tennessee River.

Every Citizen Asked to Cooperate

The Chamber of Commerce calls upon every citizen of the county to cooperate with them in the circulation and signing of this road bond petition as it is necessary to have all of them in at a very early date. Every man that believes it good roads should avail himself of the opportunity to sign the petition and tell others of
it. If there is any section that has not received a copy of the petition, they should get into communication with the Chamber of Commerce immediately. It was their desire to get a copy of it into every section of the county in order to give every citizen an opportunity to sign it.
"Morgan County Out of The Mud" is the slogan being used in the circulation of the petition.

nue, will serve free drinks from their new fountain, which is a beaut. The attendance record is hardly expected to survive.

THE CAMERA AND THE CANDIDATE

The late Theodore Roosevelt was the first American politician to learn the correct value of the camera. Because he was by nature an actor, with a keen sense of the dramatic, he saw the possibilities of much photographing, when well supervised, and in consequence went down into history as one of the great men of a generation. His teeth and grin were capitalized for a sum largely in excess of their insurable value.

The Japanese are not the only imitators, and in consequence the photographer was not allowed to remain the personal asset of the Sage of Oyster Bay. Clever, practical campaign managers, eager to present a protegee or employer in the most favorable light, were soon employing the methods that had made the big game hunter a household figure. So, it is not surprising that the pilots of the latest presidential ticket have begun to flood the mails with photographs of their favorites. A recent picture of Senator Harding, appearing in a rotogravure section, showed him as a typical politician, of the jovial type. But his campaign photo, just out, tells another story. The candidate looks out of a mounting as a handsome gentleman of distinguished—quite distinguished—appearance. He carries a pose that would befit a king, while his jaw protrudes in Wilsonian fashion. The slight resemblance to McKinley has been converted into a near fac simile. No rapturous follower of the "Grand Old Party" could glance upon this work of art without exclaiming, "every inch a president!"

And perhaps it is a coincidence, but some very late likenesses of President Wilson have also appeared. And in these his face is that of a well man, minus all the emaciation that illness brought. This may be the answer of the White House to the Chicago challenge, or it may be a tip to the hosts of democracy assembling at San Francisco.

TENNESSEE VALLEY TO EXPAND NEIGHBORLINESS (Age-Herald)

All hail to the folk of Albany and Decatur and Athens and the other good people of the Tennessee Valley, who on Tuesday began their drive to raise $250,000 with which to bridge the Tennessee river!

All Alabama wishes them well in their efforts and will look anxiously forward to that day when the bridge spans the stream and that splendid section of the state becomes more neighborly both within its own boundaries and with reference to the rest of us.

The plans have been made, the site agreed on and the benefits are recognized. The Tennessee Valley towns are afire with enthusiasm. The magnificent returns, which have come from their superbly operated farms the past few years, will be subscribed to carry through this scheme for the common good.

Highways and bridges spell civilization. They stand for the difference between stagnation and progress. No man can live by and through himself alone. To get all the good things of life he must step across the way and exchange with his neighbor that which he has for which his neighbor has to offer.

Man, to rise from savagery, must communicate with his fellow. Communication is impossible without highways and bridges over streams. A bridge over the river at Albany-Decatur is the link between the Tennessee and all other Alabama socially, commercially, financially and industrially.

The money is going to be raised in a hurry, because the Tennessee Valley is prosperous, up-to-date and keen for the common good.

Life's Real Meaning.
As the sun rises every soul is born again, and the new day gives us a chance to begin all over again. We can do and be what we will to do and be for the entire day. We can make it a red-letter day if we try hard enough. This is the way of growth. And if life does not mean growth, enlargement to us, then we have missed its higher meaning.—Orison Sweet Marden in Chicago Daily News.

DO BUSINESS IN THE OPEN

Itinerant "Merchants" in City of Mexico Flourish Exceedingly, Especially on Sundays.

Conditions in the republic which have crowded a million persons in Mexico City, or more than 300,000 above its normal population, have increased greatly the number of itinerant merchants who set up shop where their whim wills. It is impossible to find a street in the city where some vendor has not set up a stall.

A person desiring to outfit a house can buy almost everything needed without placing a foot within a regular shop. Let a prospective buyer merely hint that he is in the market for something and he is besieged immediately by a crowd of energetic salesmen, who dilate in machine-gun Spanish on the worth of their wares.

Sunday is the busiest day for these merchants. They foregather principally in the plazas, spread their goods about them and patiently wait for customers. Their numbers are augmented by men and women, boys and girls, all of them selling candles, fruits, shoe-strings, pottery, tobacco, drinks, bright-colored ribbons, shoes, hats, dogs, cats, gophers, and the dozens of varieties of food of which chili is the most important component.

The plazas present an animated appearance. Bands are playing, whistles are blowing, newsboys call their editions, a man with a wheel of chance beseeches the credulous to try their luck; a boy with a huge basket balanced atop his head offers sweetmeats at 5 centavos each, and following him comes a seller of ice cream with his frozen dainties tucked away in a container which he juggles perilously on his head but never loses a spoonful, and above all shines a glorious sun which gives no hint of brooding problems of existence.

It is a happy life the native leads on Sunday, when with a few centavos he may fill his stomach with sweets, bask in the warm sunshine and listen to music furnished by a Mexican band. A man from the United States, who on a recent Sunday morning took his seat in a plaza, within a few minutes had his shoes shined, his nails manicured, his breakfast served, his morning newspapers delivered, his measure taken for a suit of clothes and was offered an assortment of diamonds and opals at a bargain. He concluded that there may be more modern methods of conducting business, but none more picturesque than that employed by the outdoor merchant.

Believes in Physical Training.
Marguerite L. Smith, elected to the New York state assembly from the Nineteenth New York district, is twenty-five years old and a specialist in physical training and her election is, she believes, the natural outgrowth of the work she has been doing in her community all through the war. She will not give up her work as physical director in the Horace Mann Elementary school, where she is also supervisor of girls' clubs.

In the summer for several years Miss Smith has been director of the physical training and dancing at Camp Hanouan, a girls' camp in Vermont, and has also superintended the girls' hikes through the White mountains.

When she was in a teachers' college Miss Smith was president of the athletic association for two years and received the highest individual score for athletics in her senior year.

"I never had any legislative or political plans for myself," she says. "I haven't now. But I want to keep on working for the people of my own community in whatever way I can."

No Wonder.
My, how her feet did hurt! It was now two o'clock in the afternoon and she had been tramping about all day in search of Christmas bargains. It was a balmy fall day and she couldn't lay the hurting to the weather. Her shoes were two or three months old and had never caused her distress before.

But there was no denying the aching appeal for relief from the lower extremities and she hid herself to a restroom in one of the downtown stores.

She stooped to unlace the shoes and horror of horrors! She had been walking all day with each shoe on the wrong foot.

London's Fine Fig Trees.

If the average Londoner were asked where the best show of fig trees was to be seen in central London he would probably think you were pulling his leg. Yet here it is, and in such a conspicuous place as Trafalgar square.

The fig trees against the lower walls of the National gallery, inclosing the little shaven lawn, flourish exceedingly, and give a note of desirable freshness to that much criticized piece of architecture.

A thoughtful observer suggested the other day that the leaves of the National gallery fig trees might be intended for use inside.—London Chronicle.

Hardly a Model Husband.

A young woman told the Willesden (England) magistrate that she had six points to complain of about her husband. He would not allow her to speak to any one. He would not allow anyone to visit the house. He would not allow her to take her little boy out. He would not give her any housekeeping money. He threatened her life. He would not let her have her own clothes to wear. After all that the court missionary was asked to act as arbitrator.

First Jap Woman Journalist.

The first Japanese woman to edit a woman's page in her country, Miyo Kohashi, is studying journalism at Columbia university in preparation for teaching journalism in the Tokyo Union college next year. A decade ago women journalists were unheard of and unthought of in Japan. Now many women are growing interested in the profession, but very few of them have had special training for the work. That is why Miss Kohashi is preparing to teach the subject. "Women in Japan are liking the newspaper profession," says Miss Kohashi, "and already in Tokyo we have a club of twenty women journalists." Miss Kohashi is the Japanese representative of an interesting group of women students of 33 nationalities who form the International Foyer of the Y. W. C. A. at Columbia university.

Simple Logic.

The earl of Portarlington, who was one of the first to volunteer for service during the railway strike in England, relates the following story: A boy scout on duty at one of the London termini, feeling the pangs of hunger about eleven o'clock one morning, began a vigorous attack on a substantial lunch he had brought with him. A gentleman passing by was moved to remark: "My boy, if you eat much now you won't have any appetite for your dinner." To which the smart little fellow replied: "Well, I guess if I haven't any appetite I shan't want any dinner." The gentleman had no more to say.

Season of Peril.

At this season of the year it is folly to enter your bedroom without turning on the light. Also do not attempt to sit on the edge of the bed unless you are sure the bed is there, for this is house-cleaning time and the women folks may have decided to put the bed on the other side of the room this year, so it is well to be careful, for you never can tell.—Knox Messenger.

SEEKING WOOD PULP SUBSTITUTE: FIND BAMBOO GOOD

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 24.—Experiments are being conducted at the British Imperial institute for the purpose of obtaining a satisfactory substitute for wood pulp. Bamboo is said to have given the most satisfactory results and to give better promises than any other of the substitutes tested.

It has been suggested that one way out of the difficulty would be for consumers in each country to form organization on the lines of the British Cotton Growing Association for the purpose of encouraging and developing the production of pulp in various parts of the world.

At the present time England is practically dependent on Norway for supplies of the needed pulp. In a single week recently, according to figures obtained by the American Chamber of Commerce in London, 7,866 tons of mechanical wet pulp were imported from Norway, whilst only 490 tons were obtained from Canada.

Youngest Page is Ill in Kentucky

Dr. M. B. Wooten, of Decatur, was called last week to the sick-bed of his motherless babe, who is seriously ill at the home of his uncle, Geo. C. Waggoner, of Stamping Ground, Ky. The babe known as "Master Dennis" is now twenty-two months old and was made a Page at the last session of the Kentucky legislature which closed recently. He is probably the widest know baby in Kentucky and attracted much attention during the roll-call on bills, when he would invariably vote in the affirmative, regardless of the vote of his uncle, who is one of the oldest legislators in point of service in the state.

Dennis is a very sick child, but is reported slightly improved by his father, who still remains at his sick bed.

BLOOD TESTS PROVEGIRL IS A NEGRO

(International News Service)
OMAHA, Neb., June 24.—The hopes of Thora McCree, fourteen, were dashed recently when she was classed as a negro as a result of blood tests. She appealed to the authorities in the belief that she was purely of white blood, and asked to be taken from negroes, who said they were her parents. Her request was granted, but she will be placed in an Eastern home for negroes.

CAN SLEEP SOUND ALL NIGHT LONG

Since he took the new medicine Drecto, and got rid of his nervousness, constipation, kidney and liver troubles

"I BELIEVE IN DRECTO"

You can put me down as a strong friend and booster for the new medicine Drecto, for it sure has done me a whole lot of good," declared Mr. Oscar Towns, the well known farmer of Stonehill, Steubenville, Ala. Mr. Towns owns a big farm, employs many hands, and has lived there for twenty years.

"My health was bad and I needed something to restore my system because I was so nervous that I hated to see bed time come. I could not sleep, but would roll from one side of the bed to the other. I could hardly look at food without feeling weak and sick at my stomach. I was daily constipated; had dizzy spells, bad taste in my mouth, stomach full of gas, pains in my back and my kidneys bothered me often. I didn't know what it was to have a good healthy day, but would drag around feeling drowsy all the time.

I read about one of my friends near here taking Drecto, and what fine success he had with it, so I got busy at once and tried Drecto myself, and this is what makes me so happy—after taking Drecto a while I began to feel better; the pains left my back, gas stopped forming in my stomach, dizziness passed away and I got to where I staid hungry all the time, even ate between meals, and talk about sleep. I would lie down and sleep the whole night through, without waking once. I am feeling great these days and give Drecto all the credit."

Drecto is made from the juices and extracts of many herbal plants, which act on the stomach, liver, kidney, bowels and the blood in a prompt and pleasing manner.

All good druggists now sell Drecto and it is highly recommended in Albany by Albany Drug Co.; in Decatur by Hilda Drug Co.—Advertisement.

IF I HAD KNOWN

If I had known in the morning
How wearily all the day
The words unkind
Would trouble my mind
I said when you went away,
I had been more careful, darling, Nor given you needless pain;
But we vex our own
With look and tone
We might never take back again.

For though in the quiet evening
You may give me the kiss of peace, Yet it might be
That never for me
The pain of the heart would cease—How many go forth in the morning That never come home at night?
And hearts have been broken And harsh words been spoken That sorrow can ne'er set right.

We have careful thoughts for the stranger,
And smiles for the sometimes guest,
But oft for our own
The bitter tone,
Though we love our own the best.
Ah, lips with the curve impatient!
Ah, brow with that look of scorn!
'Twere a cruel fate
Were the night too late To undo the work of the morn.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

HITS AND MISSES

By BARRETT SHELTON

Reports from the Sheffield sand-lots give the Nitrate gang a big edge on the locals in the big meet, July 4. Ball games are not won on paper and a team is likely to blow at any moment although they may have taken game after in the win column. Sheffield according to the Sheffield paper put up an easy victory over the Wilson Dam diamond aspirants. The Sheffield paper had a headline reading "Sheffield walltops dam team". Sheffield has a good job when the Southern west bound brings them here on the "grand and glorious Fourth" for she is not facing a dam team but a team that never quits fighting until the last man has the KW O. badge on his neck.

Lawrenceburg is still wading into all pitchers in great fashion and only two up to date have put them away. Centerville is the second of the two and the Tennessee hamlet men said if Brownlow had had another punch at Daily, the Centerville boxman, the show would have been pocketed by them. Daily pitched a masterful exhibition against Cocke, the diminutive Lawrenceburg south paw and got the best of the man that made Albany-Decatur stand on their heads on nearly all occasions.

As Jim Corbett tells it Bill Brennan is the only man that has hit Dempsey hard enough to make him mad or hurt him. Dempsey has faced men that were giants in size compared with him and he has floored them all. Dulton, The Minnesota "Master" was the first victim of Jack's terrific right when he was handed the K. O. after the first few seconds of fighting. Willard was knocked down six times in the first round and threw in the towel after the second going. Bill Brennan faced Dempsey in Milwaukee two years before Dempsey gained the title. At the opening of the second round Brennan came in full tilt and caught Jack just coming out of his corner. He placed his whole massive weight of 200 pounds behind his punch and landed on the vulnerable point of the chin. 24 men out of 100 would have taken the count with such a blow but Dempsey simply shook his head and waited until the next round until he had rested. The fight from then on was Dempsey's but Brennan took all he could and started for more when the judges stopped for fear that Brennan would sustain a fatal injury. But the fact remains that Brennan is the first and only man that has ever made the "Utah Mauler" mad with punishment.

The Yale Bulldog was defeated by the Harvard outfit for the closing game of the college season. The count went 4-1 and the Blue never had a chance after the first inning when they scored once. Harvard took the game in the seventh by scoring twice. Selleck, the Yale hope, was sadly defeated after pitching a good game all the way.

Just as long as the Vols hold the Pels the Barons can let J. Plu rave on for the Pels are the only outfit that has a chance to overtake the Slagville gang this week.

Carpentier fights today with Lenoir, the Belgian heavy at the Vol city and an enormous crowd is expected to witness the affair. The bout will be a four round stand and the prelims before the "big boys" scrap are expected to be out of the ordinary.

Mitwe dropped into second place in the batting list yesterday with a key acquisition of the Lindale manager, up taking the lead. "Dutch" still leads, however, with the willow as an "old man" and won't be replaced by any of the Georgians soon.

Benny Leonard is ready to defend his lightweight kingdom against Charlie White, an Illinois "white hope". Leonard has established training quarters at Chicago for a few days and will then journey onward to Benton Harbor where the bout will take place on July 5.

NEW YORK, June 24. — Yankee fans are talking about the American League pennant and the world's series of 1920.

Ever since the Yanks got going with the pitchers doing their share and "murderers" row, headed by Babe Ruth, slugging all kinds of pitching to all points of the compass, Gothamites have been indulging in sweet dreams. And not without reason.

Miller Huggins' outfit is blessed 37 with a tremendous amount of rugged hitting and pitching ability. In Shawkey, Mogridge, Quinn, Mays, Thormahlen, Shore and Russell they have a staff of wigglers who can or should hold their own with any in the league. But best of all is the Yankee hitting, than which there is no better in either league.

The first Western road trip of the Clan Huggins will give Yankee supporters a much better line on their favorites. In past years Yankee teams have often blown up on the road, or suffered injuries to players that broke up a winning batting order and gave the old jinx an opportunity to get in his deadly work.

If the Yanks can win a majority of their games on the first swing around the western half of the American League circuit and then come home to settle down for another long series on the Polo Grounds, where they hit like demons, they will sure be a thorn in the sides of such teams as Cleveland, Chicago and Boston.

Long before the season opened—in fact, ever since Ruth became a member of the team—the Yanks were figured as sure pennant contenders. But they got away to rather poor start and in the first two weeks of the race they did not begin to play up to their "paper strength".

Today, however, the Yanks have apparently found themselves. They have managed to put up a pretty sweet fielding game despite the fact that Manager Huggins has been forced to shift the line-up a number of times. But Frank Baker isn't greatly missed and while Chick Fewster at his best would probably be playing second base in place of Del Pratt, the Yanks are getting by in grand shape.

Babe Ruth has "made" the team. The Big Bamomo just simply loves to play baseball and he is putting everything he has into every game. True, he goes up there and swings for home runs when it might sometimes be considered better baseball to wait em out or play 'em down. But there's no argument that will stand against the performances of such a prolific slugger, and there you are!

"Watch the Yanks from now on" is the tip that is going the rounds. And it is a sensible tip, for although no one expects to see New York spread-eagle the field in the homestretch toward Pennantville, there are plenty of folks who are willing to risk the family plate on New York's chances of getting into the 1920 world's series through the medium of Clan Huggins.

Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy that men use as a system cleanser and invigorator. It creates energy, good appetite and cheerfulness. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Advertisement.

SEA FURNISHES MUCH FOOD

United States Has Perhaps the Most Valuable Fishery in Which All Coast States Share.

The United States has what is said to be the most valuable fishery in the world, but probably not one person in ten can name it. It is conducted in every seacoast state from Cape Cod to the Rio Grande, and from Puget sound up to San Francisco, and it yields annually about 115,000 tons of food as prepared for consumption, an equivalent of 400,000 dressed steers. It employs about 67,000 persons, and its annual product, as it comes from the water, is valued at over $15,000,000. There are other fisheries that possibly exceed it in the ultimate value of their products, but in such cases much labor and material and a heavy investment of capital have been concerned in manufacturing operations to prepare the product for the consumer; as, for example, the canned-salmon industry of the Pacific coast. The American fishery for codfish on the Atlantic coast, which has been the cause of much diplomatic discussion and of grave international negotiations, appears almost insignificant in comparison, its value in normal times before the great war being about $3,000,000 yearly; and the shad fishery, the prospects of which each spring call forth much comment in the public press, produces not one-tenth as much food. The most valuable fishery is that which furnishes us with oysters. The bureau of fisheries has more than once called attention to this vast food resource and the possibilities for increasing it and using it to better advantage.

CHINESE TURNING TO SPORTS

Necessity for Physical Culture is Beginning to Be Recognized in the New Republic.

Physical culture and all types of athletics were, until very recently, held in contempt by the Chinese, and consequently the Shanghai boys did not know what the joy of indulging in baseball and other sports meant, says Lloyd's Life. Ages ago chariot driving, archery and the other classic sports played an important part in Chinese education. With the dawning of China's literary golden age, however, the scholars could not see how mental perfection could be attained if there was any thought of athletic prowess. Muscles and brawn, they said, belonged to the peasant, and the gentleman of culture should show his good breeding by a scholarly pallor, stooped shoulders and a general unhealthy appearance.

This attitude toward physical development persisted for centuries, and it has been only within the last few decades that interest has been vouchsafed in sports. With the introduction of new educational methods and the entrance of occidental theories into the orient, athletics once more came into their own and the Chinese student lucked up his cue and his dignity and went in for pole vaulting and hurdling.

China has now the idea that a nation's economic progress depends largely on the healthy bodies and minds of its citizens, and missionaries find little difficulty in winning subscriptions for athletic fields for the schools.

Fans in History

In India the fan is most common and there are servants that do nothing else but follow their masters about with a punkah, a kind of large screen, with which they attempt to cool the atmosphere. In the early ages there were ecclesiastical fans used to keep the files from the sacred bread and wine and when the pope of Rome goes forth in state large feather fans are carried, but are not used in the mass as they were in the Middle Ages.

Miller Tubes are built of thin sheets of pure rubber—surgeon grade. They are built layer on layer, sheet on sheet, up to the proper ply.

Then each tube is tested for hours under air pressure to make sure it is air-tight. Yet these ideal tubes cost no extra price.

If you will buy one Miller Tube and watch it, you will always cling to Millers.

Tread Patented

Center tread smooth, with suction cups to firmly grasp wet asphalt. Geared to the Road side tread mesh like cogs in dirt.

To the Men

Who buy inner tubes by guess

Your inner tubes are almost as important as your tires. But it takes a special skill—a rare skill—to build good tubes.

Miller stands supreme in this field. For 24 years Miller has built super-grade rubber goods.

Miller today remains the largest maker of such things as surgeons' gloves.

That sort of skill is needed in a tube. Men may differ on the best tire maker, but they cannot differ on the best tube maker. That place is conceded to Miller.

MODEL TRAFFIC COP NEVER GETS "RILED"

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., June 24.—Traffic Cop Ed Stoll is naturally good natured, but he always has a witticism handy when the necessity arises.

The other afternoon Stoll stopped a woman motor car driver when she tried to pass a wagon on a street intersection.

"Why didn't you take the wagon from in front of my car?" the irate driver demanded.

"The next time you come along this way toot your horn. Then if there's a wagon in your way I'll have it thrown off the street," Stoll countered with a grin.

The car moved on, but the "copper" was the recipient of a "cross look" as it sped away.

"ON DOWNY BEDS OF EASE"

Oldtimers May Recall, With This Witer, Their Experience With the Old Feather Mattress.

Sleeping in a featherbed used to be easy for me. I did it very fluently.
I used to be able to sleep with one under me and one over me.

That was in the upper and unfinished half-story of our country house that was fitted with a better air-cooled system than any air-cooled car you ever rode in! The only heat in the house was in a big fireplace 40 feet or so from where some of us slept in the coldest weather.

The tin cup of water sometimes set in the window in case a feller got dry in the night would freeze solid and have a frappe white wart in the center, come morning.

And all over the part of the upper featherbed where my breath had been distributed was a fine skating rink. A little sloping, it is true, but with ice thick enough to hold.

These ticks were filled with goose-whiskers that mother and I had extracted from the epidermises of reluctant honkers, a bunch at a time, through the spring and summer and early fall months.

Sometimes when an inexperienced goose-barber would jerk out some of the meat along with the basement of the feathers, the result was an unsavory condition in the tick, which nothing would eradicate except a long pendulous time over the palings.

The air would get in its work in that way, and the sleeper on or under said bed would not have so many dreams about roosting in a glue factory.

A few years ago when I had become mattress broke, I was parked in a small room at a country hotel and sicked onto a large embonpoint featherbed. I looked at it a long time before taking the plunge. Finally I jumped in and at once went beyond my depth.

I sent up downy bubbles, trod feathers, swam little-dog fashion, used the breast stroke and the Australian crawl, and finally, just as I was about to go down for the last time, I was guided to the surface by the smell of the seven-skunk-power oil stove, whereupon I took a deep and much-needed breath, grabbed a bedpost for safety, and got out.

Then I tied two pillows to me for life-preservers and re-embarked, with an old pair of candle-molds I found in the closet as a breathing tube and periscope combined.

That was years ago, and even yet I sneeze feathers every once in awhile.

Method Was Effective.

"Where did you get it?" asked Magistrate Dale, in Brooklyn, of Edward E. Stack, who was before him, charged with having been found in a state of glorious intoxication on a street corner.

"Judge," replied the prisoner, respectfully, but somewhat anxiously, "I made it myself."

"Made it yourself?" asked the magistrate. "How did you make it?"

"Judge," was the response, "I have my own method and I want to keep it to myself."

"You raise a difficult point," said the magistrate. "How do I know that you did not buy intoxicants?"

"I'll show you the recipe, judge," said the prisoner. "Only please give it back to me and preserve my confidence in the matter."

The prisoner solemnly handed up a paper on which something was written.
The judge read it carefully and handed it back to the prisoner.

"You may go, prisoner," said the magistrate. "Sentence is suspended."

Whereupon the prisoner left the courtroom, followed eagerly by a large body of residents of the Flatbush section.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

HORSE HAS NO RIGHT TO BE FRIGHTENED BY AUTO

(International News Service.) PARIS, June 24.—In these days of countless motor vehicles a horse has no legal right to be frightened by an automobile. The Civil Court at Le Mans, so decided in a case in which an auto owner sued the owner of a horse which became frightened, crashed into his car and badly damaged it. The horse owner pleaded that his animal justly took fright, but the court decided for the auto owner.

LONE TRIO, LAST OF TRIBE, HUNT SNAKES FOR PASTIME

Cogswell, Reptile Catcher, Bemoans Prohibition Because It's Death of Rattler Bite Antidote.

(International News Service) United States Geological Survey's NEW YORK, June 24.—Three In- choice, and pronounced Indian fash-dians on a 1,000-acre reservation, and ion P' ska' tikuk, is interpreted to one of them a Civil War veteran liv- mean "At the River Fork." The ing alone in a mountain shanty, name arises from the fact that the amusing himself with hunting rattles- settlement and reservation lies at the snakes and attending Memorial Day joining of the Ten Mile and Housaexercises, and all within a few hours tonic rivers. Here in 1730, or a few ride of New York City, is the story years later, a Pequot Indian named that comes from the Seaticook Moun- Gideon Mauwehee, or Mahwee, estabtain reservation, near Kent, Conn. lished himself and invited the broken Seaticook, spelled a dozen or so Pausset, Uncows and Potatue tribes ways, including Schaghticoke, the further down the river to join his colony, which they did.

Calamity has followed the settlement throughout most of its existence. In 1743 the Moravians established a mission among its people and later induced many of them to migrate to Pennsylvania. There they sickened and died in numbers, the remnant straggling back to the Seaticook home, where they lived on, neglected and poor.

They were too weak to take any part in the French and Indian War, and by 1752 had dwindled to eighteen families. This diminution continued until in 1786 there were but seventy-one persons, in 1801 but thirty-five, in 1849 only eight or ten full-blooded Indians and twenty or thirty mixed, in 1903 but one full blood and fourteen mixed. Today there are but three of any kind. The last descendant of the founder, Eunice Mahwee, died in 1879.

One of the survivors is Cogswell.
He has already survived for eighty-four years, and seems in a fair way to continue to go so for some time.
Cogswell's favorite sport is climbing to the rocky ledge 900 feet above and almost directly overhanging his cabin to catch rattlesnakes. Nothing delights him more than when his friends from the reptile house at the Bronx Park Zoo come rattler hunting and ask his company on the climb and the bagging.

He is proud to number himself among the five surviving veterans of Kent's 700 population. He plans a trip to New York to visit the reptile house and there see the prizes of his catches behind the glass plates.

He was shown a nickelled case containing a phial of notassium perman-gante, a rubber ligature, a scalpel with a hair-splitting edge, a hypo-dermic syringe and a phial of anti-venomous serum from a Brazilian laboratory. The use of all this apparatus was explained to him, but the Indian only shook his head and said:
"No good."

Pressed for an explanation of his lack of confidence in the white man's precautions against the poisonous bite of the rattlers the old Indian grunted out his opinion. "Man bitten, rattlesnake, he die. No cure now. Prohibition." To which bit of up-to-date facetiousness he added in a moment:
"Bog sport now, hunt rattlesnake. No cure."

A PATHE NEWS

No Advance in Prices.

To The Public:

On account of the increasing cost of all materials and labor we are compelled to raise the price of bread to eleven cents for the unwrapped bread, twelve cents for wrapped bread and twelve cents per dozen for rolls.

It is useless for us to tell you that flour, lard and sugar has advanced to an unheard of price for you already know that and we feel that you will agree with us that we are justified in this small raise we are asking.

We have been expecting the price of flour and other material to be lowered but it seems that this will not happen for at least some time yet but we assure you as soon as this is done the price of bread will be lowered accordingly.

We believe that you will agree with us that even at the new price that bread is the best and cheapest food one can buy.

It is our desire to give you bread of high quality and if we fail to do this we will appreciate it if you will let us know it.

Thanking you for your patronage we are,

Very truly yours,
